

One Moment Away

Copyright © 2008 Gregory Bratton

I know you don't think you want to see me again
I'll never give up waiting for the moment when You're calling out my name and I'll be there
I'm just one moment away from anywhere

And you could never know how much you mean to me
You're my every thought and prayer
And I just want to remind you not to run so far that I can't find you

Cause you're beautiful to me
You're so beautiful to me yeah
And if you look around and don't see me standing there
I'm just one moment away from anywhere
That's where you'll find me, that's where you'll find me

And you'll never be happy doing your same ol' thing
Look where it's gotten you now
Must you fall so low before you'll ever let go
Of this pride that's been holding you down

And fall on your knees, turn your eyes upon me
Anytime you need me, you know I'll be right there
I'm just one moment away from anywhere
That's where you'll find me, that's where you'll find me
That's where you'll find me